I am a Missionary Poem

I am small I know it but, I wish to be a missionary.
I asked my mom how I could:
Can just a kid make a difference?
She said, "Oh yes you can, you'll see."
She sent me outside for fresh air.
So with that thought I went out into the snow.
As I played I saw a woman crying.
I asked the lady what was wrong
and she said she was cold.
I ran inside and grabbed some blankets
and gave them to the woman.
Then I knew what my mom meant.
I was a little missionary.
